Amy M.

Ten years ago this month I reached out to ADAAP for help with my problem with Alcohol. I didn't really know where else to turn to, & I truly didn't believe anyone could help me. ADAAP was an amazing experience helping me get on the road of recovering.

They really cared about me, & they encouraged me even though I didn't really know what I needed to do to stop drinking. It felt overwhelming. My counselor, took a very personal approach. I didn't just feel like I was just another someone in the group, she helped me succeed, & challenged me & showed me how to get sober.

ADAAP was instrumental in the first steps to realizing I had a problem & understanding my disease. This month I celebrate 10 yrs. in recovery. One day at a time. I couldn't have done it without the support, guidance & first steps I got from the staff at ADAAP! I would happily recommend this program.

This program definitely works. It helped me not only how to stay sober but to want to stay sober. Hearing everyone gave me an insight as to where I want to be.

Without a doubt, hands down, ADAAP is the finest IOP rehab in all of Austin! Their staff is first class & their curriculum provides clients the tools to deal with their recovery & relapse prevention! ADAAP counselors help participants to openly examine themselves & their life choices, so they can be healed! I thoroughly recommend this awesome place!

Kurtis the Stock Boy & Brenda the Checkout Girl

Kurtis, the supermarket stock boy, was busily working when a unknown voice over the loud speaker requested a carry out at register #4. His duties mostly finished, Kurt decided to answer the call & enjoy a bit of fresh air. As he approached the check-out stand, a distant smile caught Kurt's eye. The new check-out clerk was quite attractive, & despite an age differential (Kurt was 22, she was perhaps 26?), Kurtis fell instantly in love! When his shift was over that afternoon, Kurt dawdled near the punch clock, hoping to discover more about his new found darling. After she had appeared, smiled softly at him, & punched out from her shift, Kurt waited until she'd left the break room, to read her time card. Her name was BRENDA!

Exiting the store, he watched her walking away, up the road. The next day, Kurt waited outside the supermarket, & offered Brenda a ride home. She bashfully accepted, & as he dropped her off, he asked whether he could see her again, outside of work. Brenda simply told him, that wasn't possible as she had 2 children, she wouldn't leave alone, much less afford a baby-sitter. When he offered to pay for a sitter, she reluctantly accepted his offer & they scheduled their first date, for the following Saturday.

Saturday evening, Kurt arrived, only to receive a doorstep announcement that Brenda would be unable to leave her home, because the baby-sitter had called & canceled. Undeterred, Kurt simply told her, "Well, let's take the kids with us." When Brenda started explaining that taking the children was not an option, He insisted he simply wouldn't take "No" as her answer. Faced with Kurtis' firm resolve, Brenda reluctantly asked him inside, to meet her children. The first to appear was her eldest, a polite daughter, whom to Kurt, looked just like her mother. Next, Brenda introduced him to her son, a paraplegic in a wheel chair, who'd suffered from Downs Syndrome, since birth. To Brenda's amazement, Kurt politely introducing himself to both youngsters & stated, "I still don't understand why the kids can't come with us." Kurt was genuinely unaffected, unlike many, (including her ex-husband, the children's biological father), who avoided young children, especially one with disabilities.

That evening, Kurtis & Brenda loaded up the kids, & went out to dinner, followed by a movie. Whenever her son needed to use the restroom or required something, Kurt helped him into his wheelchair, & provided round-trip transportation. The kids quickly loved Kurt, & by the end of the evening, Brenda knew he was the man she would marry. They wed, a year later. Kurt adopted both children as his own, & they've added a few more, since then.

So, what finally happened to Kurt, the stock boy & his beloved, check-out girl, Brenda? Kurt Warner became the starting QB & Super Bowl MVP for the St. Louis Rams. After Mr. & Mrs. Kurt Warner moved to Arizona, Kurt quarterbacked the NFL Arizona Cardinals, winning the Signs You're Too Old to Trick or Treat!

01. You avoid going to houses where your ex-wives/ex-husbands live.
02. You're the only Power Ranger in the neighborhood with a walker.
03. You have to carefully choose a costume that won't dislodge your hairpiece.
04. By the end of the night, you have a bag full of restraining orders.
05. When the door opens you yell, "Trick or ..." & can't remember the rest.
06. People say, "Great Keith Richard's mask!" & you're not wearing a mask.
07. When someone drops a candy bar in your bag, you lose your balance & fall over.
08. You ask for high fiber candy only.
09. You have to have a kid chew the candy for you.
10. You get winded from knocking on the door.

The Most Important Lesson I Learned in College

During my 2nd month of college, our professor presented the class with a pop quiz. I was a conscientious student & had breezed through the questions until I read the last one. The question was: "What is the first name of the woman who cleans the school?"

Surely this was some kind of joke. I had seen the cleaning woman several times. She was tall, dark-haired & in her 50's, but how would I know her name? I handed in my paper, leaving the last question blank. Just before class ended, one student asked if the last question would count toward our quiz grade.

"Absolutely," said the professor. "In your careers you will meet many people. All are significant. They deserve your attention & care, even if all you do is smile & say hello." I've never forgotten that lesson.

I also learned her name was Dorothy.
